Description

It would be great, if one could chose by the url to request only part of the html page.

Like a rest request I am only interested in displaying the issues info card (including everything like the normal web frontend) but without main menu and page header.

Maybe there is a way to configure what to display:

- Main Menu
- Header/ Logo / prject name and path / search
- Activity, roadmap, issues, ..., config panel

The reason is to display the issue in a small environment included in a delphi program which automates some parts.

Best regards
Christian
