Description

Well, I forgot my redmine.org username and wanted to use the "Sent Password Reminder" - but as I still knew my password - this reset password and set new one procedure was quite useless to me - I still lacked the username....

What about accepting the registered email address as login also? Or sending the username with the password reminder email?

I posted this issue few days ago in the forums (http://www.redmine.org/boards/2/topics/show/1630) but no reply. Am I missing some important thing ;-)
