+1

Works great on 3.3.1. Thanks.

- Category changed from UI to Time tracking

By this patch, different spent hours value is displayed for each user.
I am worried that it may cause confusion.

It already work in this way in multiple places (issues list for example) - user can see only his own time log.

Personally I think that much more confusing is situation, where issues list contain more details about issue than issue detail view, and user can't easily see how many hours his spend on the issue.

Thank you for letting me know it. I didn't know. I agree with you now. I think that it is inconsistent.

Updated the patch.

Also `Issue.load_visible_total_spent_hours` should be called to show correct value of `total_spent_hours`.
