Description

For the moment, even if we edit in the options the columns we want and the order we want, this configuration resets when we refresh the page.
Is it possible to paramter a default options display, like it's possible for the trackers in the "administration" configuration page?
Thanks.

Yes I know that, what I ask is a feature to do the same for time entries.
Look here: [REDMINE URL]/issues/[ISSUE NUMBER]/time_entries to see what I mean

After implementing this feature, the column "Project" is no longer added by default to the list of default columns for time entries in the global view. This problem is fixed by the patch from #26537.
