Description

When the assignee of an issue is a group, an icon for an anonymous user is wrongly displayed. This behavior misleads as if the assignee is an anonymous user.

I think there are two solutions:

1. Display an icon representing groups.
2. Don't display any icon (same behavior with Redmine 3.4.3 and earlier)

Looks good to me. Groups icon is something that could be done later if there is actually demand for such.
