Redmine - Patch #29830

Issue CSV export options: checkboxes have no effect for columns activated in query

Description

The csv export option modal for issues has checkboxes for the description and last notes which are activated by default if these columns are activated for the current query. Disabling them manually has no effect: the columns are still exported to CSV because query_as_hidden_field_tags adds them as hidden fields.

This adds an argument ignored_column_names to query_as_hidden_fields_tags which is used to ignore the description and last_notes columns for issues.

Patch works for Redmine 3.4 and 4.

Thank you for sharing the patch.

I felt something wrong with this behavior.

I investigated a little to see if we can solve this problem by changing the view, but it seemed difficult.
I think the method proposed in 0001-fix-Issue-CSV-export-options-checkboxes-have-no-effe.patch is valid.

LGTM.
But is it ok to not update tests?

If #33211 is implemented, this change will no longer be required.

I updated the patch, which supports Redmine 5.x. Now dynamic block_column names are detected (not manually specified as in first version of patch).

It would be nice, if this patch would be applied soon.
