Description

Currently the Calendar can get very large with lots of issues and quickly becomes unwieldy.

We would like the ability to specify which trackers to display on the calendar. Much in the same way as on the "changelog" page. This will allow us to reducde the clutter on the calendar.

Ideally this would be available on the "my page" calendar as well as the main one.

It would probably be best to have a horizontal version of the tracker selection box that is currently displayed on the changelog page.

Thanks,

Jeff

We would also envision applying tracker filtering to the Gantt chart as on a large project it can quickly get overwhelmed.
