Dear, in the tab Administration / Configuration / Notifications by Mail, the error appears:
Notifications are disabled because the mail server is not configured.
Configure the SMTP server in /etc/redmine/<instance>/configuration.yml and restart the application to activate the changes.

I can go one step by step, because I have seen many forums and I can not find the solution

You see the error because you have not completed SMTP settings in configuration.yml This is the expected behavior.
