Description
On some pages, like Home or My page , the project menu is empty but the div html is still present.
It's a problem when you a background image in CSS, because you see the background image without the menu items (see the screenshot).
Could you remove:
<pre>&lt;div id="main-menu"&gt;</pre>
<pre>&lt;/div&gt;</pre> or add a CSS class to identify an empty menu ?
Thank you very much.

- % Done changed from 0 to 100

Fixed by:

- Saving for the result of render_main_menu into menu_html
- Adding a class "empty" on main_menu if menu_html.nil?

The attached patch should resolve this issue.

JPLang, pushing this up on your radar. The patch seems ok, though I'm not sure this kind of logic should be in a view, I don't have a better idea at the moment though.

I agree. I've committed a different version of it which will not display the main-menu div if it's empty (commit r3539)
