| When a project is added to user account, would it be possible to automatically add all subprojects too?           |                |                        |            |
| It is easy to delete several projects from user, but adding new user to a whole tree of projects is quite a pain. |                |                        |            |
