Description I was playing around with improving my "roadmap" issue filter (not a huge fan of the default roadmap), and I noticed that you cannot group results by Target version and then change the sort order of the target version (so that instead of it going 3, 2, 1, it could go 1, 2, 3). It appears that all sorts work properly, as long as they are not grouped by the same column. I was using the devel version from svn (revision r3474)
