

Redmine - Defect #5

Setting an issue status as default status leads to an sql error.

Resolution:
Description
In the "Issue statuses" screen add a new status and check the "Default status" box. This leads to an sql error:
SQLite3::SQLException: no such column: false: UPDATE issue_statuses SET is_default=false
Request Parameters: {"commit"=>"Save", "issue_status"=>{"name"=>"DummyStatus", "is_default"=>"1", "html_color"=>"FFFFFF", "is_closed"=>"0"}, "id"=>"6"}
I'm using :
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• redmine 0.4.0</li><li>• config/environments/demo.rb</li><li>• sqlite3.</li></ul>

Ruby 1.9: add "encoding: utf-8" header at application_helper.rb

Following error raises in case that time log has non ASCII comments.

```
ActionView::TemplateError (incompatible character encodings: UTF-8 and ASCII-8BIT) on line #5 of app/views/timelog/index.html.erb:
```

```
3:
4:
5: <%= render_timelog_breadcrumb %>
6:
7: <h2><%= l(:label_spent_time) %></h2>
```

Fixed in the repository.

You can replace /app/models/issue_statuses.rb by this one:

http://rubyforge.org/viewvc/trunk/app/models/issue\_status.rb?root

=redmine&view=markup

or wait for the 0.4.2 that should be released in the next days.
