Description I use issue statuses to calculate done ratio of issues, and set the done ratio of "New" to 0%, that of "Assigned" to 30%. I changed the status of an issue from "New" to "Assigned", so the done ratio is changed from 0% to 30%. After that I changed the status of the issue to "New", but the done ratio did not revert to 0%(stayed to 30%). So I wrote a patch to fix the bug. Regards

I completed the patch with some tests, thanks Yuki for finding this. The commit is here:

<http://github.com/thecat/redmine/commit/fc58994174b2206da0ce25e0321dd96dda62a366>

I also slightly changed one of the tests to really test Issue#update_done_ratio_from_issue_status, for which the comment (<source:/trunk/app/models/issue.rb#L326>) states:

Set the done_ratio using the status if that setting is set. This will keep the done_ratios even if the user turns off the setting later

- Status changed from 7 to Resolved

- % Done changed from 0 to 100

Applied in r4186. Thanks for the bug report and patch.

#4 - 2010-09-27 00:21 - Eric Davis
