I would propose the key_go icon of famfamfam for now.

Once we are able to define complete authentication modules in redmine and be able to configure those in a combined GUI, I would propose the group_key icon.

fwiw, these two from famfamfam would work as well imho. but we should definitely get one of them into the final (non RC) 1.0 release.

Thanks everyone, I was going to add one but forgot about it while doing the release. I ended up using the server key and giving it a css class so other server authentication types can reuse it.
