Description

Hello,

I made major updates and completed the translation.

Please consider merging the Rtl theme (see #2318) as a standard theme. It's a must for RTL writers... I'm attaching an updated version as well.

Thanks!

Is there a way to make the application use the RTL theme when the user chooses an RTL language, or even better - let each user choose his theme? The current implementation forces the administrator to set the theme for all users and languages, because the setting is in the Administration panel.

You forgot the sub-left image in the revision (it's inside the zip).

Well, I see you replaced it with bullet_arrow_left. Is it visible? Why not use the same image from the LTR theme reversed?

No, I don't know how implement this. Patches are welcome :). I think it should be implemented in language file itself. Try open new bug for this feature.
