For multiselect custom fields, what would be the desired behaviour when clicking on a value in the contextual menu?

- replace existing value(s) with the new one
- add the new one to the existing value(s)

Would a context menu displaying all values with checkboxes be too much? :p

Comitted in r8824.

Multiselect custom fields are not proposed since the context menu allows to select a single value only. The bulk edit form is just 1 click away for those fields.
