same here! see #5989 which is NOT solved!

#2 - 2010-10-20 09:41 - Bernard Steens

It is not the same: I have the problem on the trunk with the rewrite of the gantt.
Also the subtasks are never seen as subtask and not like the #5989 where the problem occurs only when parent has a id greater than the childs

#3 - 2010-10-20 13:35 - Damien Couderc

The problem seems to occur when childs are not following directly the parent.

- File ScreenShot022.jpg added
- File ScreenShot023.jpg added

The problem occurs also with childs id following directly parent id (see new screenshots)

- Status changed from New to Closed

Fixed by #7335.
