| The search button on the redmine website doesn't work.                        |                       |                          |            |
| Steps to reproduce:                                                           |                       |                          |            |
| 1. go to www.redmine.org/plugins |                       |                          |            |
| 2. enter "bots" on the search text field and press enter                      |                       |                          |            |
| 3. no results will be shown                                                   |                       |                          |            |
| Expected results:                                                             |                       |                          |            |
| At least the bots filter plugin should be shown.              |                       |                          |            |
