Redmine - Defect #6876

Diff view truncating lines shouldn't be counting SVN props

Description

Lets say I make a commit that deletes 5,000 SVN props off of files. If I click the diff, it'll truncate it with,

"... This diff was truncated because it exceeds the maximum size that can be displayed."

Because it exceeds the length set in the admin panel. But these prop changes don't even show up in the diff, so they shouldn't be counted toward the total at all. Only the actual textual changes should be counted.

Don't know if this applies to other systems such as HG, Git, etc, but this definitely applies to SVN.

This bug conflicts with my feature request #6877. I'd honestly much rather prefer you implement #6877 instead of this bug report.
