Resolution:	Fixed
Description Follows #8209 .  This scriptlet returned new errors :  <pre>require 'psych'  parser = Psych::Parser.new  Dir.entries('config/locales').each do  filename     next if File.directory? filename    puts "parsing #{filename}..."   parser.parse File.open('config/locales/' + filename) end</pre> Patch attached based on your redmine-31 bitbucket mirror; beware, the updates on ja, zh and zh-TW locales are made "blindly" (don't have the according fonts installed).

I have known this problem.

<https://www.chiliproject.org/issues/503>

Should we change all i18n yaml?

#2 - 2011-07-19 14:35 - Etienne Massip

What do you mean by "all i18n yaml" ?

#3 - 2011-07-19 14:40 - Etienne Massip

All the changes included in the patch are necessary, if this is your question ?

#4 - 2011-07-19 14:44 - Toshi MARUYAMA

Chiliproject replaced \ to \ in only en.yml and pt-BR.yml.

Should we change all *.yaml at source:trunk/config/locales ?
