Description
I have "Display subprojects issues on main projects by default" set to false.
Still issues for my subprojects is displayed on mainproject-"Overview".
I see the "by default"-clause - it suggests that I could set it for the project, but I can't find it though. Maybe the problem is here? (The projects were created with the "Display..."-option set to true)

If 'Display subprojects issues on main projects' is set to false:
