Description Hello, Thanks to http://www.redmine.org/issues/1383 , you can now set Redmine users to be mapped with the committers. However this does not reflect on the statistics screen for the repository, this is viewable as an example here: http://www.redmine.org/projects/redmine/repository/statistics To keep everywhere consistent, I thought it may be best that the change from #1383 be applied on the statistics screen also. Your thoughts are appreciated on this.
