Description
Hi, I use Redmine as a project management system for my developers team and as a support tickets system for my customers. Most of the time I set a project for my team and a sub-project to this project for my customer. Ex : Project - internal team >> Sub-project - for customers We have a lot of different projects right now and I use a lot the global activities page in order to see if there is any new customers issues to manage. Problem is that there is also my team activities (from every project parents) so I can not focus only on the possible issue from my customer. So it will be great in the global activities page to be able to add filter for projects in order to all sub-projects linked to my customers. Hope you follow me ;) Thanks for your great tool!
