Description

The syntax of the wiki should support the alt-text and a title-text for an image. The text is helpful if a user hovers the mouse, so it will display the text in a tool-tip. Also, if the user disabled images, or for accessibility.

Maybe it should use the "Optional description" in the Files upload form (if it's an image).

A possible wiki-syntax could be
"My description":!someimage.jpg!

#1 - 2011-11-27 00:07 - Jean-Philippe Lang

- File Messier51.jpg added
- Category changed from Wiki to Text formatting
- Status changed from New to Closed
- Resolution set to Invalid

Already supported:

!Messier51.jpg(Messier 51 © NASA and European Space Agency)!

gives

Messier51.jpg

I didn't know that, where do you have that information?

Because it isn't mentioned in the <http://www.redmine.org/projects/redmine/wiki/RedmineTextFormatting> or in the Help about text formatting.

It's a standard Textile syntax (see <http://redcloth.org/hobix.com/textile/> for examples). I've update RedmineTextFormatting.

Thank you for the information.

Do Redmine supports all syntax of Textile? Maybe a link to <http://redcloth.org/hobix.com/textile/> would be then appropriate?

It should support most of the syntax. I've changed the link to this one which is more usefull.
