Description
Currently custom fields can be configured per project, it would be interesting to add the ability to configure the visibility of the custom fields for user profile, with the edit and view options

In /workflows/permissions, you can already manage the "Read-only" and "Required" state for custom fields. The visibility is not managed for other fields too. I use redmine_workflow_hidden_fields plugin to manage this.

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Resolution set to Fixed

Custom field visibility is implemented by #5037.
