Description
Hi!
I'm testing linking between commits from SVN and redmine.
I managed to get everything working except the fact that when I check "Spent time" section I see entry with comment "Applied in changeset r2568 ". It is just text, not a link and is rather useless.
Wouldn't it be easier to show there actual comment connected to revision which I entered which is "testowy commit3" in this case or at least link to URL/projects/PROJECT_NAME/repository/revisions/2568 ?
In my opinion would be both - comment I entered ( not an automatic one) + link to revision.

Is duplicate of Redmine - Feature #11152: Linking commit comment and time spe... New
