

Redmine - Defect #11738

Batch update of issues clears project path

2012-08-30 09:36 - Lorenz Breu

Status:	Closed	Start date:
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:	Jean-Philippe Lang	% Done:	0%
Category:	Issues	Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:	2.1.0	Affected version:	2.0.3
Resolution:	Fixed
Description
The following just happened:
1. opened project 2. opened list of issues 3. set filter to show all with status "Resolved on Dev" 4. selected all issues, right clicked, batch set "% Done" to 100% 5. list reloaded, but in root, not in project, so all issues of all projects with the given status where listed, of course I didn't realize at the time... 6. selected all again and batch updated status to "Resolved on Test" 7. made some other developers a bit angry and had to restore yesterday's backup of our Redmine system
I have done this procedure before but never noticed this behaviour. Has anybody else noticed it? Is it a configuration problem? Our setup is pretty basic, though...
We are using:
Environment:
Redmine version		2.0.3.stable
Ruby version		1.8.7 (x86_64-linux)
Rails version		3.2.6
Environment		production
Database adapter		PostgreSQL
Redmine plugins:
no plugin installed

History

#1 - 2012-08-30 12:17 - Lorenz Breu

New insight:

Seems that it happens when issues of both a project and a subproject are updated at the same time...

#2 - 2012-08-30 12:20 - Etienne Massip

- Status changed from New to Confirmed
- Target version set to Candidate for next minor release

Reproduced on demo.
