Description
Hi! 1. Thanks for this great tool. Wouldn't want to work without it. 2. I've got a prob with the current version: Somewhere between 1.3.2-stable (as provided by Ubuntu) and 2.0.3-devel (taken from github) a bug has sneaked in. Just updated to 2.1.0-devel. Still the same. If I want to filter my issues or Gantt-entries by assignee or author the operator dropdown appears ("is", "is not") but not the field for operand (the "Who"). So I can't complete the filter argument. Found nothing similar. And so no fix. Would need it for auditing the new version. Thx, Chris

Could you provide a screenshot, your browser/OS versions and any javascript errors that occur, thanks.

Hi!

I'm using on User-side Windows 7 with IE 8. My Server is something like an Ubuntu Server 10(?). Don't know where to find any error-scripts. The Screenshot is from my Ticket-Page of an Project (in german translation). It also occurs on filtering Gantt-diagram and calendar (same component?).

Funny thing: if I browse redmine.org it's the same error. So if nobody sees, what I see, it seems to be an interpretation problem in my browser. Bad thing: I'm forced to use this browser. At the moment, a colleague tests it with firefox. Let's see what happens.

But in the old version it still works... there we were missing something else that has been bugfixed.

Addition: also the highlighting, when selecting tickets, doesn't work in the new version.

Thanks for any help.

Chris

Hey there!

Nothing new from my side. How about you?

How are the chances to get it fixed soon?

Thanks for any informations. If I can support your efforts, let me know.

Best wishes,

Chris
