Description

In the API for versions, there seems to be no way of filtering the result by status or by project, for example.

It would seem nice to be able to do something like : `http://my.redmine.org/projects/my_project/versions.xml?status=open`

The following parameters could be considered :

- status (one of open, closed or locked)
- project name (or project id)
- description (would only return versions whose description would contain the value of this parameter)
