Description

The "Add watcher" feature now provides a search field and check boxes, this UI would be extremely useful when you have a lot of target versions (such as Redmine has right now).

Additionally, being able to filter that check box list by status (open/closed) would be extremely useful, allowing the user to filter only open/closed target versions and select from that list.

This also meets the needs of the related tickets.

How flexible is the helper (I think it's a helper...) used for the watchers list?

Hmm, seems I can't add relationships to other issues, I found #10412 which is a subset of this feature.
