Description

Hi there, is there the posibility to restrict the userrights for the redmine reporters?

I saw many tickets in redmine.org for the last weeks where some people who hasn't anything to do with any ticket but trying to assign some developer to these tickets or try to set tickets as resolved! This is very contraproductive.

It would be more useful, if only redmine developers/admins have the abbility to assign tickets or resolve them and the respective ticket creator. It would improve the way we could manage these tickettracker.

Thanks in advance,
Daniel
