Description While Redmine Trac converts wiki pages to Redmine textile markup, it doesn't take care of Milestones. Trac enables to fill milestone records with data with the same markup of the main wiki.  The result is that if I browse versions in my Redmine installation I see raw Trac data.

I'm going to attach a patch for this issue, but I've just noticed that description field in Redmine Version model is just simple text and doesn't allow textile markup.
Is it a choice or simply this feature has not been planned before?

I faced just the same problem today, here's a patch if you didn't implement it yet ;) - #1680

Any news on this? This is an ancient ticket.

Is this bug still open or did someone implement the patch, pointed above?

- Resolution set to No feedback

As there is no feedback since two month, this issue seems to be outdated and could be closed.

If not, just reopen it.
