Description

This patch gives a list of roles for an issue status :
- grouped by Roles then Trackers
- gives a link to the proper workflow edition

I've quickly reviewed the functionality provided by this patch. Two things I've noticed:

1. Regular status transitions are not distinguished from additional status transitions allowed when the user is the author and/or assignee. This might be confusing.
2. This is more a general thing but I don't know for sure if the issue status edit view is the right place for this information. Ideally, I think this would be better located under the workflow items.
