Description

If there are no objections, I'd like to change the Teams wiki page.
In an effort to provide a point of contact for media and / or press relations I'd:

- put myself as "Community Relations Team Lead"
- remove reference to the Redmine Blog www.redmineblog.com as the blog is no longer maintained
- and create a team page for the "Community Relations Team" to describe its scope of work

Of course I will work with the dev team and don't manage all enquiries by myself and on my own.
I can handle requests in English, German and French, which should IMHO be enough.

History

I'm fine with that =)

#2 - 2013-06-24 07:47 - Jean-Philippe Lang

Agreed.

#3 - 2013-06-25 14:53 - Jan Niggemann (redmine.org team member)

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Resolution set to Fixed

Cool!

I updated the Teams page accordingly and will create a new page for the "Community Relations Team (PR)" in the next couple of days.
