Description
Is there any way to export a project, including all files, users , etc out of one computer and then import it into another computer?

Do you mean "import into another redmine instance" (on another server)?
Please use the forums for questions like that, just open a thread in "Help".

Jan,
Asked for Help on the Help forum over two months ago and received no replys.
I guess with no cost open source you get what you pay for. Nothing!
Sorry I used the wrong forum in a quest to get any help.
