Redmine - Feature #1452

Automatic repository URL base

2008-06-15 02:26 - Tim Hawkins

Status:	New	Start date:	2008-06-15
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:		% Done:	0%
Category:	SCM	Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:

Description

The repository registration system requires the user to enter the URL of a repository that has not yet been created, when used in automatic repository creation mode, it would be better to have a system wide default URL base that would be used with the project name to create the repository URL, and display it as a default.

It could be displayed as a suggested URL, with the user being able to override with a specific URL.

History

#1 - 2011-01-18 07:00 - Toshi MARUYAMA

- Category set to SCM