Description

How to reproduce :

- open an issue and click on add a Watcher
- search for a user
- select it
- search for another user
- select it
- clear the search field : previously selected users are not selected anymore.

That's not supposed to work. Once you have selected a user, you have to click "Add" before searching another one.

It's a bit counter-intuitive, though. Using checkboxes make it seem that more than one can be selected at a time.
