Description
Hi, Since 2 days I try to download the version 2.3.4 from the rubyforge page. But the page isnt available because of database problems. I noticed that they have problems there for a longer time. Can you put the version 2.3.4 like the 2.4.1 one on the redmine page? Or is there any mirror site of rubyforge that is working? Many thanks in advance, Holger Wegner

Hmm, that's right, we need mirrors for the files...

You can checkout the desired version from <http://svn.redmine.org/> if you're familiar with SVN...

For the time being, you can download the files here:

<http://redmine.hz6.de/redmine-2.3.4.zip>

<http://redmine.hz6.de/redmine-2.3.4.tar.gz>

jp.jp: Perhaps we should distribute the releases via some mirrors. I volunteer and can put the releases on my webspace.

I updated the links for 2.3.4 on the Download wiki page with the links to the 2 files on my webspace (obviously they still have the same MD5). I also added a note explaining that this is temporary.

You can download from bitbucket mirror.

Jan, thanks for mirroring the downloads. They are now hosted at redmine.org.
