

Redmine - Defect #2000

Can't edit subject or description of original ticket

Description I have just updated to the latest version of Redmine (0.7.3) and you can now edit notes, etc. which is great, but I can't edit my original ticket. If I create a new issue and click submit with a half baked write up I can no longer edit the issue to resolve as I could previously. The same with the subject. If something in the subject is mistyped and I didn't notice until it was posted there is no longer a way to correct it with this version. I am using FF3.

Can you try:

Goto the issue you want to edit (#60) (<http://your.redmine.host/issues/show/60>) -> click "update" -> after the header of the section "Change properties", click "more".

This should trigger a fade-in of both fields (Subject & Description) which values then can be modified.

Plz confirm if it's available in 0.7.3, ifso can you close this issue?

- Status changed from New to Resolved
- % Done changed from 0 to 100

Follow the steps above and the feature still works with 0.7.3.
