Description

Hi,

it would be nice to have some sort of role based notification settings. Background is: I would like customers to only get notifications if the issue gets assigned to them. If there's all kinds of action, like document adding, message adding etc etc, I don't want the customer to be notified.

Also, only a message that is being added when the issue is being assigned to them, or while the issue is already assigned to them, should be mailed to him.

Any ideas anyone?

Thanks,
Ingmar
