Description

A few patches for UI/CSS that allow better/easier styling in themes.

- Patches 0001 and 0002:
  Replaces all uses of image_tag() to render icons with icon-* definitions. This makes is possible to replace all these icons with Font-based icons, e.g. FontAwesome.
- Patch 0003:
  A unimportant change to use the PDF icon for "Also available in PDF" links
- Patch 0004:
  Updates pagination to use <ul> and <li> to render the pagination part
- Patch 0005:
  Building on top of patch 0004, changes pagination to a GitHub like design that also looks and feels nice in responsive mode

Based on r14881, everything passes "rake test" and is tested in Firefox 42, Safari 9 and Chrome 46.

More to come :)

- Status changed from New to Needs feedback

Could you separate patches to new issues?
It seems three group [1, 2], [3], [4, 5].

Done:

- 1,2: #21256. I folded the two patches into one and also corrected accidental duplicated CSS rules.
- 3: #21257. Same as here.
- 4,5: #21258. With minor correction in positioning, plus screen shot included.
