Description

Hello,

I've found some information about this topic but actually no solution I could understand and implement. I am looking for an easy solution to import a few values from excel to redmine issues.

It is mainly about normal fields like story, short description etc. I also added a few custom fields that I would like to import from Excel (another problem I still have here is the arrangement of those fields; I would like to have more huge fields like the "description" field, is that somehow possible? I could only create those large text fields, but they are still smaller than the huge description field.)

It would be great if someone could help me. As I'm not that familiar with programming it would be great if the explanation is detailed ;)

Thanks,
Calimero
