Description

If the user list is quite long, it can be very time-consuming to find the right person when opening the "assigned to"-combo box when editing an issue.

I suggest to show the users that are likely to be chosen at the top of the list. Ideas for defining "likely to be chosen":

- user was assignee in the past
- owner of the issue
- watcher of the issue

Or even more esoteric:

- activity of user in the project
- how often is the user choosen as assignee of the current assignee
- ...
