Description
Hello, Redmine is beautiful, and contains all the features needed. Unfortunately, it misses private messages between members. It would be very convenient to communicate privately among members (not necessarily of the same project). Sorry for my English.

Very powerfull functionality, need to say.

Additionally, I want to say that messages from anonymous users sometimes needed too, so would be great, if user can turn on/off this functionality.

No plans to implement an Inbox feature in redmine frontend ? humm.... redmine is very well organized for PM, but no inbox messages/notifications (just like how it works in asana) seems to be pretty essential
