Description

Hello

It's will be great if it's possible to see the whole file, not only the differences in Repository tab.
Now when I select commits and click View difference button I see only the differences but some time I need to check more lines of the same file that is not modified and not shown.
Additional link/button for files that open the whole file with differences will be useful.
This is for Subversion repository I'm not sure for other types.
