

Redmine - Defect #28302

Security notification when changing password on password forgotten is empty

Resolution:	Fixed
Description Currently the "User" and "IP address" fields in security notification emails sent when changing a password using the forgotten password feature are empty. Jan had already proposed a patch for this in the original security notification issue #21421#note-15 , but it seems to have been overlooked. If this was intentionally left out, I am sorry to bother and I suggest adapting the email to not include the fields at all instead of leaving them blank. I have updated Jans patch against master and I will attach it to this issue.
