Description
We occasionally get users updating issues that they didn't create, nor are they watching. What happens then is they don't get email -- neither for the update they made, nor for any future updates. What we would like is to automatically have such a user added as watcher to the issue. Suggest that this be made an option, with it default to "off" for old behaviour.
