Description

Right now, you have to click on the "Files" link below the wiki (to open the section) to see whether there are any files or not.

I think it would be very useful to show the number of currently attached files in brackets, like

Files (0)

or

Files (42)

I guess this would have no real performance implication and help the user very much.

Thanks for any feedback to this idea!

The same feature has been implemented by #27090 for upcoming Redmine 4.0.0.
Thank you for suggesting an improvement.

Well... then obviously my ticket search went wrong. Thanks for pointing out this, I am glad it will be in 4.0 :-)
