Allow project column to break into new line in time entry table

Resolution:	Fixed

Description

When adding the project column to the time entries detail report, the project name does not break into new line. This unnecessarily can quickly add a horizontal scroll bar and/or vertical space to the table. This can be avoided by letting the content break into new lines, just like the issue's name. This patch takes care of it.

It also affects issues list. I think the improved style should also be applied to the issues list. Felix Gliesche, would you update your patch if you agree on it?

Hello Go MAEDA,

i did some tests. For the issue list, I didn't really find an improvement for the issue list:

I am not sure, if it's worth updating it for the issue list, too. What do you think?
