Description There should be day numbers visible in Gantt. Maybe at highest zoom or add one more zoom level with days displayed. Day numbers can be small, but it's a must for us, because we're sending reports to our clients. Thanx!

Adds day numbers to HTML and PDF gantt (#3034).

History

#1 - 2010-10-03 15:13 - Mischa The Evil

- Category changed from Issues to Gantt

#2 - 2011-05-16 17:37 - Etienne Massip

- Subject changed from Add day numers to gantt to Add day numbers to gantt

Typo.

#3 - 2011-05-24 08:59 - Alex A

- File show.html.erb added

replace file in app/views/gantts/show.html.erb
this is for redmine 1.3, for other versions not tested

#4 - 2013-03-20 20:35 - Nuno Ribeiro

- File show.html.erb added

I'm currently using the attached file in version 2.2.3.stable.11610
Haven't tested it in other versions
as said, just replace the file in app/views/gantts/show.html.erb
and restart redmine

#5 - 2013-03-20 23:28 - Mischa The Evil

- File rmo-3034.diff added

Thanks for posting your solution. Though, in its current form (a complete patched view) it is cumbersome to review the changes you have made. Therefore I have extracted a unified diff out of the patched view you have posted in note-4 compared against source:branches/2.2-stable/app/views/gantts/show.html.erb@11610, which I post hereby.

FTR: I have not reviewed the diff in substance.

I also wanted this feature, so I updated the patched show.html.erb file to work with the latest Redmine release I'm using (redmine-2.4.3-0).

I am attaching two files, the one with '_old' suffix is the original that came with Redmine installation, the one with '_new' suffix is the modified one. I am attaching the two files so people can see what the differences are. Simply replace the file in your installation with the '_new' file. Thanks to the original author for coming up with the solution.:

- File 3034-11.diff added

I have generated the patch file from John Galt's work(#3034-11).

It works fine on Redmine 2.5.1 and current trunk(r13181).

This feature have been desired for years by many people. Seems there is no problem to merge into Redmine core.

Could it be included with 3.1 or 3.2?
